

Eucharistic Miracle of BETTBRUNN

GERMANY, 1125

In the Eucharistic Miracle of Bettbrunn, a very pious farmer in an excess of zeal stole a sacred Host that he brought to his farm in Viehbrunn. One day, the Host fell to the ground accidentally but no one was able to pick it up. Everything was tried and finally the Bishop of Regensburg intervened. The Bishop was able to pick up the Host only after promising the Lord that he would build a church in honor of the Host. The report of the miracle spread rapidly and attracted a large number of pilgrims.

Inside the Church of San Salvatore

Church of San Salvatore, Bettbrunn

Ancient representation of the Church of San Salvatore

The faithful on a pilgrimage to Bettbrunn

The building of the village of Bettbrunn and of the present-day Church of the Holy Savior are owing to a Eucharistic miracle that took place in 1125. In the place where the town and the church are located now, once there was only a small farm called Viehbrunn, because next to it was a well that was used to give water to the livestock. The owner was a man who was deeply devoted to the Most Holy Sacrament. This man lived an hour and a half away from the parish church of Tholling and he was not always able to attend Mass. Because of his zeal, he decided to solve the problem of not always being able to make it to church by secretly stealing a sacred Host and bringing it home. The farmer took the stick that he always brought with him and made an opening on the top end into which he placed the Host. Every day, when the livestock were resting, he stuck his stick into the ground and he kneeled before the Most Holy Sacrament for many hours. For several months, the man continued in this manner until one day, without thinking, he impulsively threw the stick with the Sacred Portion at a herd that had strayed too far.

The Host fell on the ground and the farmer, deeply saddened, bent down to pick it up. Every attempt to lift it up proved to be to no avail and when he did not know what to do he sent for the parish priest of Tholling. But the priest was also not able to pick it up and finally they approached the Bishop Hartwich of Regensburg, who immediately went to the place of the miracle with all his clergymen. Only when he promised to build a chapel in that place did he succeed in picking up the Host from the ground. In 1125, the building of the chapel was completed and the precious relic was kept in this place until 1330 when a fire destroyed everything. The chapel was later reconstructed and in its interior they placed one of the pillars that had been saved from the fire.